Investment Highlights

A Strong Team

A respected management group and board with Canadian and international experience in all stages of diamond project evaluation and development – from discovery through production.

Exploration Success

North Arrow has been the Canadian diamond sector's most active and successful explorer over the last six years, discovering two of the five kimberlite fields found in Canada. North Arrow is the only junior company to discover a kimberlite field in Canada during that period.

Poised for Additional Discoveries

Six active Canadian diamond projects; five of which offer the potential for new discovery in their next stage of exploration.

Diamond Supply/Demand

Globally, there are very few advanced diamond projects approaching production and few companies actively exploring for new deposits. China, India and the US are predicted to continue being major drivers of polished diamond demand in the medium to long-term.
